HiAce & Prado

The Toyota D4D 3.0L engine is widely used but surprisingly doesn't always share common parts. The Prado and HiLux/HiAce starter motors are largely the same, the only difference being the switch terminal (50 terminal) location and design.

The OEX DXS575 offers a new and unique switch terminal, giving the option of installing a single unit to either vehicle without the need for unreliable adaptors. With this new innovation OEX offers one unit with multiple applications.
